

DAVID DININ

⌘ BIOGRAPHY ⌘

David Dinin has been a member of the Corporate Performance Consultants Senior Executive Team since 2007. He is also the co-founder and President of Enable Advisors, a management consulting group providing operational advisory and investment banking services to mid-sized technology-based firms. David has extensive U.S. and international experience encompassing over 35 years of managing products, technology, manufacturing, engineering, human resources and administrative services.

Career Highlights

- President and CEO of Robocom Systems a NASDAQ based software company with a leading position in the automation of logistics and supply chain solutions to Fortune 500 companies.
- Senior Vice President of Olsten Corporation responsible for marketing and national accounts business units with revenue of over $600M.
- President of Linotype Corporation where he grew the company (from $30M to over $300M) into the world's largest manufacturer of pre-press equipment.
- Vice President/General Manager of Automatic Data Processing (ADP) where he was responsible for the accounting services business unit.
- Vice President/General Manger for Arrow Electronics where he created an $80M computer products distribution business in 3 years.
- In addition to the above, David has managed the acquisition, integration and divestiture of over 20 companies.
- Currently serves on the board of advisors for the Long Island University/C. W. Post Campus School of Management and the Stony Brook University School of Engineering.
- He is a former board member of the Long Island Association and serves on several corporate boards as advisor.

David received his B.A. from Hofstra University.